

Front Door (Closed)

He

deflates to half the original size urinates sitting down makes rude hand gestures from behind net curtains admires his foreign coin collection watches the parliament channel with the sound turned down eats at six sharp cries silently hugging a favourite shoe counts spaghetti

meditates for world peace sleeps under the stairs

Mathew Lloyd