

Funny Faze

Here comes a senior moment
As I forget what I did the other day
Or I climb the stairs just to find
I stand there in a state of dismay

What am I doing here?
What did I intend to get?
I pause for a while, give a secret smile
Fetch the cat down, she's a cute little pet

I sometimes have a problem
With colours on traffic lights
When your mind is on other things
And you're watching peculiar sights!

With a blast of the horn
That wakes me up
I smile and raise my hand
Why can't they be more patient
As I try to make one last stand

While walking around in a daze
Where's my glasses? Not in the shed
No need to look any more
Cus I found them on top of my head

There's quite a few of these moments
I think I'll have to give in
Accept its me whose near 63
It's a faze that I cant't win
